COUNTY PUBLISHES FULL FINANCIAL STATEMENT

GOVERNMENT FINANCES ARE EXCELLENT WITH MORE THAN $40,000 IN GENERAL FUND

A financial statement showing the condition of the county funds to date is published this week under direction of Giles L. Avriett, County Auditor.

This statement shows the finances of the county in excellent condition and indicates that those in charge of the government are applying business like methods to the affairs of the county.

More than $40,000 is to the credit of the general fund in surplus cash.

Mr. Avriett makes comment in connection with the figures and every citizen of the county will be interested in the statement.

It is exceedingly gratifying to note the splendid condition of the county and The Herald congratulates the county judge Jeff T. Kemp and the Commissioner's for the manner in which they have managed the government.

As auditor of the county Mr. Avriett has a well defined policy of public safeguard and he is a close student of its affairs. Likewise are the judge and commissioners who guard the resources of the county with ideal fidelity to their public trust.

Every citizen and tax payer should read this announcement.

YOUR GOVERNMENT

WHAT THE CITY COUNCIL IS DOING

Clean up days are set for Friday and Saturday. The street department has been instructed to call for and haul off the trash. Home owners are requested to place all cans and rubbish in containers and set on sidewalk so the trucks can get it. This is an annual custom of the city and the cooperation of the people is asked. Remember Friday and Saturday of this week.

Improvement of Wilson-Ledbetter Park was planned Tuesday night at the regular session of the council Will Ledbetter has been made care taker of the park. At thegates cattle guards will be placed to keep out stock. A few head will be kept in the park for grazing and the proceeds are to be used for the upkeep of the park. Mr. Ledbettr has authority from the council to manage the park and the people are asked to co-operate with him.

The council has asked the sanitary committee to get from the state health department plans for a model slaughter house. The city plans to have the state law and recommendations of the state board of health complied with. The council also will make investigation withthe view of improving the handling of the meat supply as well as all foodstuff.

A meter tester will be maintained by the council for Cameron power and water users. This decision was reached Tuesday night when it was learned that Governor Moody had signed the bill passed by the Legislature recently which provides that each city shall have a tester. On complaint of customers, the new law makes it mandatory on the council to test meters. Corporations not permitting such meters to be tested are fined $500 for each and every day they refuse.

The city voted to ask the city marshal to consult with property owners and the Texas Power and Light Company with the view of closing the alley and all traffic across the sidewalk at the corner of the Vest cotton office and the power office. It is pointed out that this is a much traveled street and people going to the postoffice are endangered more or less. The city would stop the traffic across this place. The council does not want to inconvenience anyone but believes this will be a measure of safety.

City Engineer A. F. Mitchell and J. F. Brown, city plumbing inspector, have been asked to prepare plans for the improvement of the disposal plant. Manholes above the water line are asked. The officials are asked to report at the next meeting of the council on March 16.

Street commissioner Logan Green has been delegated the duty of taking mistletoe from the trees in the city park with the street crew and also to repair the sewer line at the old gravel pit.

Minutes for the past five months were read and approved, being prepared by Dan Tyson, acting secretary of the council in the absence of R. D. Brown, secretary who is in a hospital in Houston.

Street lights were instructed to be placed at the large cement bridge across the ravine near the home of T. A. Howell; one at the Mondrik store in Santa Fe town.

The council read and approved the monthly quota of accounts and instructed them to be paid.

W. T. Mowdy M.D.D.S.

Dr. W. T. Mowdy Called By Death; Hundreds Mourn Him

Dr. William T. Mowdy, 69, pioneer resident of Milam County and native of Alabama, died at the family residence at 11:45 o'clock Saturday morning, February 26, 1927, from a heart attack, following a long period of declining health, resulting in the hardening of the arteries.

Death came to Dr. Mowdy peacefully, surrounded by his wife and children who watched with fading hope at the bedside during the hours of the day and night when his condition was known to be most critical.

Dr. Mowdy had been in declining health for more than a year, first becoming pronounced in February 1926 when he suffered his first attack. During these months intervening before his death on last Saturday, he was a silent sufferer, showing great fortitude and patience, both being virtues of his extraordinary life. Even in his last few days of illness, he was thoughtful of his good wife and children as they ministered to him,waving aside his suffering and with patience and a smile continued to the end solicitous about the welfare of others.

While his condition was known to be serious, his death came, as the death of all men whose lives have meant much to the community in which he lived, must come, with a shock and profound grief welling up in the hearts of hundreds.

At the bedside were his wife, Mrs. Wiley Mangum,daughter; Chas. W. Mowdy and Thomas J. Mowdy, sons; the physician Dr. Elbra Monroe; his friend and neighbor, Rev. E. S. Hutcherson of the Baptist church; and others who came to share with the grief stricken family and relatives, the sorrow of his passing.

Dr. Mowdy occupied a room overlooking the busy street from which he looked out upon the sunshine almost to the hour of his death.

The body, encased in a mauve gray casket of steel, was laid for a time in the room where he died, overlooking the street, and banked about it were the flowers sent by loved ones and friends. A background of flowers, made into a circle of color, completed the expressive charm of floral offerings, numbering among them a wreath from the Bible Class in the Christian church of which he was a leader, one from the church and aid society; a big three link piece from the Odd Fellows and from the Ferguson Motor Company in Dallas where his sons are engaged.

Through the watches of the night members of Odd Fellows kept vigil at his bier and on the following day had charge of the services at the grave.

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Baptist church, Rev. E. S. Hutcherson,

Dr. William T. Mowdy, Active In Business, Set Example of Inspiration To Other Men

William T. Mowdy, D. D. S., M. D. known as a specially able representative of a vocation that is to be considered both as a profession and a mechanic art, Dr. Mowdy was engaged in successful practice in the city of Cameron, Milam County and his large and important professional business denotes the popular estimate placed upon him as a man and as a skilled practitioner of both operative and laboratory dentistry. He was not only a most successful man in the work of his profession but displayed great circumspection in connection with capitalistic investments and business affairs, the while he stood an exponent of loyal and liberal citizenship, as one of the progressive men of Milam County and its fine capital city, Cameron.

Dr. Mowdy was born in Perry County, Alabama, on the 5th of April 1858 and of the same county his parents likewise were natives, his father, William Mowdy, having been born on the 20th of November, 1823, and his mother, Mrs. Melinda (Laginer) Mowdy, having been born there on the 28th of October, 1826. William Mowdy came with his family to Texas in 1868, passing the first year in Panola County and then removing to Milam County, where he passed the residue of his life, the greater part of his active career having been devoted to the basic industry of agriculture, in connection with which he achieved definite success. He was one of the honored pioneer citizens of Milam County at the time of his death which occurred February 9, 1900, and his wife survived him about six years, her death occurring in 1907. They became the parents of nine children: Nancy E., Melinda E., Margaret F., John G., Wil-

A human body in a bad state of decomposition and identified as that of John Parks, 48, was found by Hiram Anderson, negro on the bank of Little River Sunday afternoon.

The body was found about two miles from Faubian Bridge by the negro. Death is thought to have resulted from natural causes.

He had been missing from his home for about two weeks, telling his folks he would look for work.

Justice of the Peace J. A. Ely, rendered a verdict of "death from natural causes," when he was called to the scene.

Mr. Parks was a resident of Gause. An examination by a physician at Gause showed no marks of violence on the body.

Sheriff Blaylock and chief deputy Vaughan were called to the scene.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK SHOWS LARGE INCREASE

RESOURCES OF BANK CLIMB—ASSETS OF STOCKHOLDERS MORE THAN 5 MILLIONS

Statement of the financial condition of the First National Bank of Cameron published in this issue shows a big increase in deposits and other resources as compared with a similar statement published by the bank last month. The increase in deposits is about $40,000 and the total resources of this bank is now up near the million mark.

For strength of this bank is represented by its immediate assets and the wealth of its stockholders compares favorably with the large banks of the state.

Stockholders of the First National Bank have assets upwards off ive million dollars, it was revealed Wednesday to a representative of this paper and this financial solidity will be appreciated by the depositors and the public at large. The total of assets owned by stockholders of this bank places behind this bank a tower of financial strength.

The statement as published this week sponsors the belief that the depositors are attracted by strength and conservatism and not by alluring interest which constitutes a loan from depositors with future payment and interest on the loan. The First National Bank does not advertise a 4 per cent interest rate paid on time deposits, yet it's depositors show a substantial increase compared with the statement a year ago.

The increase in deposits of this bank is a welcome indication of a growing institution in our midst constituting a vast financial resource for Cameron that is well able to take care of the business of the community.

The officers of the bank are: A. N. Green, President; S. W. Cheeves, Vice President, C. A. Middleton, Vice President; R. H. McIntosh, Vice President and F. B. Cable, Cashier.

Miss Lily Kate Beckerman of Baylor College, Belton spent several days this week with her father, F. J. Beckerman.

R. D. Brown, city secretary and treasurer, is reported improving in a hospital at Houston. He is under the care of Dr. Graves, noted Texas physician. Mrs. Brown is with him. They left Cameron two weeks ago. It is reported here that Mr. Brown has shown considerable improvement and will likely stay there for about two months to regain his health. CHOIR NOTES
H. P. Black

"The habitual use of vocal music by a family is an almost unfailing sign of good morals and refined taste."—Landon.

"Not only health but morals are promoted by the cultivation of music." Bryant.

Music not only pleases the ear and entertains, it acts directly on the heart and emotions, thus affecting character.

Attendance at choir practice has been good notwithstanding the bad weather. It is the aim of the choir to lead the congregation in soul-stirring singing as well as to provide special numbers occasionally.

The choir has begun practicing on an Easter musical program.

The B. Y. P. U. is a training service for young christians. "Neglect not the gift that is in thee," was Paul's injunction to Timothy. It applies to you, young christian, also. Every young christian and member of the church should find a place in one of the unions and seek the training offered by the B. Y. P. U., because "the church needs trained workers and young christians need training."

Visit the B. Y. P. U's., join one and help to make it serve its purpose. A fine group have already pledged themselvs to the task of building up good unions.

WHAT THE CHURCHES ARE DOING

During the last month two other pastors have left our Association. Bro. J. W. Raley, who was pastor both at Yarrelton and Gause has resigned both places and Bro. P. C. McGahey has resigned at San Gabriel. Gause has already called a pastor to succeed Bro. Raley. Bro. Jesse Jones is the new pastor, we wish for him success in his new work. Yarrelton and San Gabriel have not yet called a pastor.

Bro. Pardo is doing splendidly with his new work at Marlow.

The Missionary was at Hicks and Watson's Branch for a good service at each place last week. He expects to be at both of these churches again sometime this month.

When the Association meets at Milano next Saturday for the next worker's conference, we will have the pleasure of meeting in a remodled church. Th Milano people have spent several hundred dollars on their church building in the past few weeks. A new roof has been put on and other changes made in the building.

Important Executive Board Meeting at Milano, Saturday at 1:15 P. M.

The Missionary will preach at the Davilla church next Sunday morning, and at Tracy Sunday afternoon.

Bro. J. D. Clare has had some appointments at Smyrna and Sand Grove in recent weeks. These two churches have been without pastors for some time but are now taking on new life, they will probably call Bro. Clare at an early date.

The Conquest Campaign will be presented at the Buckholts Baptist church next Sunday night. The Missionary or some other visiting speaker will be with the pastor, Bro. W A. Clark in this service.

Rockdale Calls A. R. Toby, Ft. Worth

The Rockdale church has called as their new pastor, Bro. A. R. Toby, of Fort Worth. Bro. Toby is now pastor of the Lake Drive Baptist church of North Fort Worth. We have not learned Bro. Toby's decision.

MODERN HOME IS FINER

The furniture dealer is best qualified to refute the calamity howlers when the latter predict the passing of the "great American home," and it is the furniture dealer who can assure the public that the American takes a greater interest in his home today than ever before.

Furniture is indissolubly associated with the home, so the furniture business serves as an accurate barometer of home conditions. It is self-evident that if the home is losing its traditional attraction the volume of business transacted by the furniture merchants would be diminishing. But the people of the United States are buying more and better furniture, so it follows, they must be more home-loving than their immediate or earlier antecedents.

The furniture business is one of the largest and fastest growing of the country's many commercial enterprises. As a newspaper advertiser it ranks in volume with other large scale advertisers, the automobile, real estate and clothing dealers.

Analysis of newspaper advertising and advertisers proves that advertising is not employed to create a demand for unwanted merchandise, but is resorted to to timulate an existing demand and to inform the buying public on products for which there is already a demand.

On the above practical theory of advertising one can leaf through the advertising pages of the newspaper and relative demands for the advertised magazine and intelligently estimate products. It does not always follow that the most widely advertised article is of better quality than another less widely advertised but, because of the relation of price to quality, the most highly advertised product is in greatest demand.

COMMUNITY ASSETS

Under the caption "liabilities" in the fiscal report of cities and towns appear the amounts of their bonded indebtedness and unpaid bills. Bonds and bills are liabilities because they represent the public debt, but in a larger sense they may be the least of the community's liabilities.

Municipal bonds are as representative of the assets of a community as of its liabilities. That is a self-evident fact to those who realize that municipalities can only issue bonds for permanent public improvements and that every $1,000 municipal bond stands for improvements costing $1,000. The bonds remain liabilities only until they have been redeemed, but improvements financed by those bonds remain permanent assets of the community.

So it appears that a community may have other and more burdensome liabilities than municipal bonds. One such liability may be the absence of community co-operation and public spirit. Lack of civic pride constitutes another community liability. Liabilities of this character give the community nothing and deprive it of much.

But the community discord, civic slovenliness and public disinterestedness are redeemable liabilities. They cease to be a tax on the community when the public recognizes them as liabilities and undertakes to liquidate them.

There is nothing co-operation can not accomplish for the community. Communities everywhere are proving the accuracy of that statement. Like individuals, many towns and cities are saying that whatever they have ever desired has been given to them if they only desired it earnestly enough. Such desire is not, however, the kind that waits for providence to grant its wish.

THE THOUGHTLESS FEW

The many suffer for the transgressions of the few. This would be a platitude if it were not that modernity has given it greater significance.

The most common way the blameless many may expiate thewrongs of the few is through legislation. Things carried to excess invite prohibitory and restrictive legislation, although in moderation they would have escaped the lawmakers. But once they are embodied in the statutes the temperate are punished with the intemperate.

It is conceivable that there would be no speed laws compelling the motorist on the straight, broad and untraveled highway to drive as slowly as the one on the winding, narrow and busy thoroughfare if a thoughtless few had exercised reasonable care.

Among those enterprises resorting to poster advertising the complaint is common that there would now be heard no talk of legislative restrictions against advertising signboards along highways if a few of the advertisers and board owners had been more polite in their choice of sites.

It is a defect in the governmental system that it does not permit discrimination in favor of the petty offender.

Whatsoever a man sews that also shall he rip.

The head of many a house is less than ten years old.

Our objection to seeing a woman kiss a dog is we like dogs.

The main problem facing any youthful prodigy is how to grow old gracefully.

Some men remind us of postage stamps. They must be licked before they will stick to a thing.

If Kidneys and Bladder Bother

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast; continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a plesant, effervescent lithia water drink, which often quickly relieves bladder irritation.

pastor, conducting the simple though beautiful rites. Dr. Mowdy had requested that Rev. Hutcherson conduct his funeral because, they had become fast friends during the past few years.

Members of the Odd Fellows came from the lodge room and at the home a company of eight pallbearers from the lodge, bore him to the hearse and with the members escorted the body to the church. At the church a special choir sang the old songs he loved. Mrs. Alex Triggs sang, 'When They Ring Those Golden Bells.' The pastor, in a beautiful tribute told of the life the deceased had lived, pronouncing an eulogy that was touching. The church was filled to capacity by hundreds who came in the soft light of mid-afternoon to pay simple homage to the man of virtues.

The funeral conducted by the Coleman-Eplen funeral home, was one of the largest processions ever seen in the city, ending at Oak Hill where the body was held for a time at the brink of the grave for the Odd Fellows ceremony. Here Harry Firstbrook and Ed.Warenken of Temple, conducted the service from the Odd Fellow's ritual, assisted by about 50 members of the Lodge who deposited the evergreen and clasped hands above the casket as they came in twos by his grave. Overhead a great oak with its branches be-wintered of leaves was mutely testifying to the decay of all life, for it had cast its foliage. Then there came the assurance that when spring comes, life within its branches will be renewed and on through the ages a never dying succession of life, suggesting to the Odd Fellows as they passed to moisten with a tear the sod of the grave, that immortality is certain and the departed brother, secure in the faith of the God who gave him life is safe within the bosom of the Everlasting.

For a time the family lingered at the grave, when others had departed, wrapt in the solemn moment of farewell.

Heaped about the mound were flowers, tokens of esteem and sweet with fragrance, of sun and color.

Dr. Mowdy reared his own monument in the hearts of his fellows. Upon it are written in memory's immortal tablet the virtues of his life. His was the unfaltering trust of the Christian. As a lad he gave his life in a beautiful fealty, living in the faith, and with him daily was his Bible from which he read and drew his inspiration.

He was at first a member of the Methodist church but later united with the Christian church in which faith he was baptized.

He died on his wedding anniversary. He was a trustee and a faithful member of the Odd Fellows lodge in Cameron. He was a charter member of the Christian church of Cameron and with the late J. M. Eplen led out in the building of the old church, being one of the leaders in all its progress.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. W. T. Mowdy, one daughter, Mrs. Wiley P. Mangum; two sons, Chas. W. Mowdy and Thomas J. Mowdy of Dallas; one grand daughter, Elizabeth Mangum of Cameron; one sister, Mrs. Manse Pool of Abilene; one brother, A. W. Mowdy of Buckholts; nieces Misses Jaunita, Gwendolyn and Eva Wanda Mowdy of Buckholts; Mrs. Chas. Gaston and Mrs. Winnie May Ford of Cameron; a nephew, Lee Smith of Denton.

Close to him, having been school mates in Tennessee, are the brothers of Mrs. Mowdy, Dr. L. Barnes and Dr. Willie Barnes, the former with his wife and daughter, Willeta were here.

The active pallbearers from the Odd Fellows were, W. W. Chambers, Roy Law, S. P. Cross, J. B. White, Jerry Nabours, Judge Jeff T. Kemp, Judge John Watson and Chas. C. Smith.

The honorary pall bearers were: H. F. Smith, Sr., Jim Cone, T. G. Sampson, Dr. Elbra Monroe, J. S. Bradford, T. A. Howell, O. M. Smith, J. D. Eplen, H. L. Slaughter and Wm. Henderson.

Dr. Mowdy attended school in his native county, in Alabama, until he was ten years of age and he then accompanied his parents, on their removal to Texas. He continued his scholastic discipline in the public schools of Milam County and in pursuance of higher training he then entered the University of Tennessee, in the department of dentistry of which institution he was graduated in 1888, with the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery. For the purpose of fortifying himself further for his chosen profession he completed also a course in the medical department of his alma mater, the University of Tennessee from which he received the dgree of Doctor of Medicine in 1890. WAR FILM IS COMING TO YOE HIGH SCHOOL

AUSPICES AMERICAN LEGION MARCH 10 AND 11 AT AUDITORIUM

"The World War," a motion picture utilizing a great part of the world as a set, with entire nations playing minor parts and with eleven-twelfths of the world's population in the cast, will have its initial appearance at the Yoe High School Auditorium, March 10 and 11, Matinee and night.

This unusual picture which is being shown in this city under the auspices of Edwin Hardy Post of the American Legion, has been described as "at once the most thrilling and authentic history of the World War that has ever been told in pictures."

The story of this picture's creation, the lives lost in "shooting" its scenes, the month's of delving into the archives of the governments of the United States, Great Britan, France, Italy, Russia and Germany to obtain official data and pictures, the years devoted to its careful preparation, and the official seals of the United States Navy and Army Departments stamped on the film (the first time in the history of motion pictures that those seals have appeared on pictures) all these unusual elements in this picture's preparation make it what it is, "the first big historical motion picture of the World War."

Its action covers the greatest drama in the history of the world over a period of four years. Therein lies the remarkable feature of this unusual picture; it has successfully brought to the screen in a comprenhensive and graphic form, the most gigantic war in the history of the world. This has been done by careful compilation of scenes that are revealing, impressive and authentic.

War in all its phases is seen in this film. There are no picked scenes. The lumbering tanks, the murderous machine guns sweeping No-Man's Land, the poisonous gas, the smoke screens, the depth bombs, sinking of ships by submarines, the flare of star shells, the recoil of gigantic guns gouging the earth in angry protest, the wire entanglements, the falling planes, the falling men—all the elements of war are seen in this great picture.

The title of the picture, "The World War," is no misnomer, one critic said. It is just that. When you have seen it you will know."

$50,000 Endowment Fund Is Aim Of Parent-Teachers' Association; More Than $25,000 Has Been Subscribed

Thousands of interested citizens throughout the state of Texas have an opportunity to observe the splendid work being done by the Parent-Teacher Associations every where. Often the worth of this organization may be evaluated in benefits to individual children but its greatest value is reached when it provides equal opportunities for all children of a community, and in general enriches the entire community life.

As individual citizens and as groups many are priviliged to contribute toward the success of Parent-Teacher work in their community; but only a few really know how the State and National Parent-Teacher organizations are financed.

May Fix Dues

Every local association is at liberty to fix the amount of its own annual dues. All associations in affiliation with the State and National, send 25 cents per member to the state treasury, and such clubs are allowed 1 voting delegate in all district and state meetings for every ten members so reported. Of the 25 cents paid to the state 5 cents is returned to the treasury of the district wherein the local club is located; 5 cents is sent to the National treasury,and 15 cents is retained to finance the activities of state officers and committees as well as to promote P.-T. A. extension work.

Fund Created in 1923

An endowment fund was created in 1923, the foundation for same being furnished through the liberality of Mrs. Ella Caruthers Porter who provided a nucleus fund of $5,000. The goal set for this fund is $50,000, of which something like $25,000 has already been secured. Only the income from this fund is available for use, the principal being kept in investment by the endowment committee. The Ninth District has been asked to raise a quota of $250 for the endowment fund this year.

Life Membership

The third great source of income for Parent-Teacher work is life membership. The work of securing life memberships is directly in charge of State Chairman, Mrs. Edward Kneeland of Dallas, and the ten district presidents. $25.00 provides a life membership and this may be pledged a year in advance of payment, either by individuals who are interested in Parent-Teacher work, or by groups or individuals who wish to award a life membership in the form of a memorial or a gift. School trustees, superintendents, and ardent P.-T. A. workers are among those to receive gift memberships of every district meeting.

At the State conventionin Ft. Worth last November, the Seventh District pledged a life membership honoring Governor Dan Moody. Mrs. Kneeland recently received the following letter from Governor Moody regarding the gift membership: Executive Department, Austin, Texas: Mrs. Edward Kneeland, 702 N. Bishop Ave., Dallas, Texas. I acknowledge advice that I have been made a life member of the Parent-Teacher Association through the act of members of the 7th District. I appreciate very much the honor conferred upon me. The efforts of this organization in behalf of the schools and the children of Texas deserve to be commended and I hope that the organization enjoys such cess. Sincerely yours, Dan Moody.

Mrs. Hillry Stedman, Misses Minnie and Cil Stedman and Willyne Hyde went to Waco Thursday.

TO A ROSE

By Max Reynolds, Dallas

White rose
With your silken shawl
And pure unkissed lips,
I wonder if
You are aware
Of your exquisite
Beauty
And the joy
You give
To the world?

White rose,
With your rich perfume
Scenting the air
And sending forth
Soft, sweet music—
Chopin—Schubert.
Clear, silvery water,
A lone star
In the brightness
Of heaven's glory.

The light you shed
Gives me courage,
And I know life
Holds something lovely
After all.

HOYTE HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB

The Hoyte Home Demonstration Club met February 24th at the home of their president, Mrs. H. B. Pressley.

The new agent, Miss Minnie Violet Bartholomew gave an interesting talk on "Hats, old and new." Miss Bartholomew is a graduate of North Texas State Teacher's College of Denton and has been teaching home economics in the Sour Lake High School, consequently she is thoroughly familiar with the work she has undertaken. All of the club members are delighted with her and hope she has come to stay.

The 1927 yearbook was distributed during the meeting. This yearbook is the result of the work of Miss Montgomery and the presidents of the home demonstration clubs in the county. By means of the yearbook the agents hope to secure more unity among the clubs of the county.

The next meeting will be held March 10 at 2 p. m. at the Hoyte School House. The subject for discussion is "poultry." All members are urged to attend and to be prepared to answer roll call with "Poultry Hints That Have Helped Me."

New comers in the community and visitors are always welcome.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

The Knights of Pythias conferred the rank of Esquire at their convention last Monday night at which time there was a splendid attendance.

A suggestion to sponsor a base-ball team made up entirely of members of Milam Lodge met with enthusiastic response and any club that expects to win from the Pythians will have to show some big league class.

Next Monday the rank of Knight will be conferred on those who are entitled to that high honor.

Thelston Ford, prominent farmer of Baileyville, was in town Monday on business.

In the upper right is shown St. Monica's Church as it appeared when erected and before the fire. At the left is shown the outline of the building after the fire. The roof is burned away as well as a portion of the spire. In the lower picture is shown the interior of the church with blackened timbers falling from the room. In the background of the lower picture may be seen the altar which appears to be undamaged by the flames. The heoric work of the firemen saved the interior and the walls from destruction. Texas City To Be Mentioned In Parent-Teacher Scrapbook When Mothers' Congress Meets In May

When the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers meet in Oakland, Cal., May 21-27, some Texas town will be given prominence thru the medium of a Parent-Teacher Scrapbook prepared by clipping and arranging material from the local newspaper relative to Parent-Teacher work.

Texas is one of the states duly entered in this national contest, and any P.-T. A. Club in the state may enter competition by preparing a scrapbook according to a general plan, outlined by the contest committee, and submitting same for inspection in its respective District P.-T. A. convention this spring.

Briefly the instructions for preparing scrapbooks are as follows: 1. Books should measure 12x16 inches. 2. The cover page of book should bear the period limit, as for instance "From September to date of District meeting." 3. All clippings should be neatly clipped and pasted; and each should have the name of the publication from which it was clipped and the month, date and year should be neatly written in ink at the side of clipping, on the leaf of scrapbook. 4. Where possible the announcement of a meeting should be followed by the write-up of that meeting. 5. Programs, posters, folders or any unique idea carried out by the association of its committee may be used, provided these received publicity.

In sending Parent-Teacher write-ups to your paper, the committee asks you to remember that the term "Parent-Teacher," both home and school. Don't make Parent Teacher scrapbooks merely school publicity matter.

Scoring points for scrapbooks will be as follows: Legitimate material 1 point; neatness 1 point, arrangement, date sequence 1-2 point; planing 1-2 point, 1 point; good announcements (well worded, inviting) 1 point; journalistic excellence 2 points; photographs and illustrations (this may include pictures of equipment provided by Parent-Teachers) 2 points; originality 1 point; activities other than regular meetings 1 point; total 10 points.

Parent-Teacher clubs of the 9th District are urged to prepare and submit books in the district meeting to be held in Clifton, April 19, 20 and 21.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

A PINCH OF THIS

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

When mother used to mix a dough
Or make a batter long ago
When I was only table high,
I used to like just standing by
And watching her; for all the while
She'd sing a little, maybe smile,
And talk to me and tell me what—
Well, things I never have forgot.
I'd ask her how to make a cake.
"Well, first," she'd say, "some sugar take,
Some butter or an egg or two
Some flour and milk, you always do,
And then put in, to make it good,"
(This part I never understood
And often used to wonder at)
"A pinch of this, a pinch of that."

And then she'd say, "My little son.
When you grow up, when childhood's done,
And mother, maybe, far away,
Then just remember what I say:
For life's a whole lot like a cake,
Yes, life's a thing you have to make
Much like a cake, or pie or bread,
You'll find, my son," my Mother said.
I did not understand her then,
But now her words come back again,
Before my eyes the past appears,
A life of laughter and of tears,
And both the bitter and the sweet
Have made that life of mine complete,
The things I have, the things I miss—
A pinch of that, a pinch of this.

At first I thought of flour alone
I'd make my life, that wealth I'd own
And never care about the rest,
But things I lost that I possessed,
And things possessed, when life grew sad,
I never knew before I had.
In sorrow something would occur
Like—well, like memories of her.
And now I think I know her way
To make a life: As she would say
Put in the wealth to serve your needs,
But don't leave out the lovely deeds,
Put in the great things you meant to do,
But don't leave out the good, the true,
Put in, whatever you are at,
A pinch of this, a pinch of that.

BARTLETT MAN IS BURNED TO DEATH

TOM M'DOWELL IS VICTIM IN AUTOMOBILE FIRE AT ELM MOTT MONDAY NIGHT

Waco, Tex., March 1.—Identification of the body of the man burned to death Monday night in a Chevrolet coupe about a quarter of a mile south of Elm Mott as that of Tom McDowell, 37, of Bartlett, was made Tuesday morning by McDowell's half-brother, Sam Levins of Bartlett.

According to Levins, McDowell left Bartlett Monday afternoon at 3:15 to go to Monroe, Louisiana, where he was to deliver the car from the Kilpatrick Chevrolet Company of Bartlett to the Chevrolet agency in Monroe.

The blazing car was first discovered at about 9 p. m. Monday by two men in a northbound car, who stopped at Elm Mott and made known their discovery. These two men were driving toward Dallas, and as soon as a party from Elm Mott started for the burning car, the two drove on north.

J. C. Garrison of Elm Mott said that he had followed the car for about three miles, but was unable to pass because it kept veering from one side of the roadt to the other. Then it suddenly drew over to the side of the road and allowed him to pass. Garrison is of the belief that there were two men in the car though there was no one with McDowell when he left Bartlett, according to Levins.

The first man from Elm Mott to reach the burning car was B. F. Cummings, who was however, unable to open the door of the car because of the intense heat. Sheriff Leslie Stegall, with deputies Will Surratt and Joe Roberts had been notified, and they discovered that the car had apparently begun burning in the upright position in which it had allowed Garrison's car to pass it. The blaze was put out by rescuers by pushing it to a near by ditch filled with water, an throwing the water on the car.

The body of the man had been burned to a crisp, the only means of identification being the dealers' license, D-8968 on the car, the words Kilpatrick Chevrolet Company, Bartlett, a key ring, and a watch. The watch had been badly blackened, and no identification marks were to be found on it.

About $4 or $5 in change was found. Levins said that McDowell had about $50 or $60 on his person. Sheriff Stegall said that if McDowell had any bills, they had been burned up.

The body was brought to Waco by the Wilkirson and Hatch ambulance, and will be sent to Bartlett for burial.

Surviving McDowell are his mother, Mrs. Mary Levins, his half-sister, Mrs. J. R. Holstein and his half-brother, Sam Levins of Bartlett.

Sheriff L. L. Blaylock made a business trip to Austin Wednesday.

If Kidneys and Bladder Bother

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast; continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia water drink, which often quickly relieves bladder irritation.

GILES L. AVRIETT, County Auditor.

The above statement shows a good balance to the credit of each fund which is carried on the books of the County Auditor and County Treasurer. There is to the credit of the General Fund the sum of $46,253.42.

There is a controversy between the County and the G. C. & S. F. Railway Company as to the proper amount of taxes due by the Company for the year 1926. The County claims there is due the sum of approximately $15,000.00 and the railroad is contending a sum probably $3,000 less is due. This is the first time in the history of the county a railroad had declined to pay the taxes due as disclosed by the tax rolls. It will probably require a suit in order to finally adjust the matter, as the railway company prior to February 1st, made a tender to the Tax Collector of the amount they claimed was due.

A number of the funds shown above will be much greater when this tax is collected.

During the past several years no money has been borrowed for any fund except for the General Road and Bridge Fund and sinking funds for a short time.

Following the flood of 1921 when an additional expenditure for bridges in the sum of $40,000.00 was made; then the allotment of $25,000.00 for the Brazos bridge fund; and during the past year when the McCown bridge was dismantled and used to build one bridge South of Buckholts and one near the Brazos bridge this side of Calvert and the bridge and trestle built the past year in Elm Creek bottom on the Yarrelton road has forced the Commissioner's Court to borrow on the resources for this year the sum of about $10,000.00 for the credit of the General Road and Bridge Fund. This amount along with the usual current expenses will easily be taken care of out of the taxes collected for this year.

Practically all of the above bond issues with the exception of about three are serial bond issues and a certain amount of the principal is paid each year. A few times during the past several years, due to the failure of the property owners to pay their taxes promptly it has become necessary to borrow money temporarily in order not to default on the payment of interest and principal due, but it has been exceptional cases and for a very short length of time.

Each year it is determined just what amount is necessary to be raised and the rate is levied accordingly.

SCHOOL GIRL CROWNED "COTTON QUEEN" FOR LARGEST YIELD PER ACRE

AMPLE evidence that cotton can be grown profitably even when lint is selling at eleven cents a pound, or less, is shown in the records of prize winners in official Cotton Contests held in seven states last season.

The contest winners by growing high yields of lint per acre brought the cost of production down to seven cents, or less, per pound. These results are not isolated, but come from various sections of the Cotton Belt, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Tennessee, Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas, where State-wide cotton growing contests were held.

One of the best records of the year was that made by H. M. Cox, a cotton farmer of Millen, Georgia. Mr. Cox won first prize in the Georgia Contest, producing 4,914 pounds of lint cotton on five acres. The cost of producing this cotton, including labor, was six and one-fourth cents per pound. Mr. Cox made a net profit on his cotton of $71.25 per acre.

Public attention was recently directed to the achievement of these cotton champions through their trip to Washington as guests of the Chilean Nitrate of Soda Educational Bureau. In every State except Texas the Grand Prize Winner used Nitrate of Soda in using the money made on the farm for her expenses there.

Although Mr. Cox has been given the title of Cotton Champion of Georgia for his accomplishments last season he had a close second in George W. Dozier of Moultrie, Georgia. Mr. Dozier produced 4,432 pounds of lint on five acres at a cost of 6.23c per pound, making a net profit of $64.42 per acre. L. D. Smith of Doerun, Georgia, finished third with 4,258 pounds on five acres, the cost of production being 6 1-3c per pound, with a net profit per acre of $61.67.

One of the lowest costs of production reported for 1926 was that made by Mr. J. J. Marchant, also of Doerun, Georgia, whose lint cost him exactly 6c per pound to produce. Mr. Marchant grew 4,059 pounds of lint to the acre, and received fourth prize. His net profit per acre was $60.95. All of the Georgia contestants used liberal applications of Nitrate of Soda.

Louisiana's cotton champion for last year was Mr. C. T. Connella of Alexandria who produced six bales on five acres. His only fertilizer was 200 pounds of Nitrate of Soda per acre before planting.

In the State Cotton Contest of South Carolina, George T. Swearingen of Trenton, finished in first place, fertilizing his crop. In Texas, G. Mont Adams, who acquired national fame in 1925 by growing sixteen bales of cotton on five acres, receiving the Grand Prize for that year, made another remarkable record in 1926. Last season he grew eleven and three-fourths bales of long staple cotton on five acres of poor Upland soil and received the first prize for Upland staple and is generally acclaimed as the East Texas Cotton Champion.

Mr. Adams was a member of the Chilean Nitrate of Soda Educational Bureau's party in Washington.

"The fertilizer used on my cotton consisted of 335 pounds of Nitrate of Soda, 565 pounds of Acid Phosphate and 100 pounds of potash before planting and a side dressing of 100 pounds of Nitrate of Soda per acre after chopping," said Mr. Adams.

"I have always used Nitrate of Soda over my entire farm and hardly think I could make a crop without it."

One of the best cotton producers in the country last season was Miss Elga Daniels, the eighteen-year-old daughter of a tenant farmer living near Nacogdoches, Texas. Miss Daniels was an active participant in the Club Work conducted for farm boys and girls by the County Agent of her County, and last year was enrolled in the Nacogdoches County Cotton Club Contest in which one hundred and ten boys and girls competed. She finished in first place, producing two and one-half bales on one acre. The County Agent estimated that her cotton cost 8 1-3c per pound. Ordinary fertilizer was supplemented with 200 pounds of Nitrate of Soda.

Miss Daniels has been crowned "Cotton Queen" of her County, and made the trip to Washington as representative of Texas Farm Club Girls.

For several years Miss Daniels has raised cotton and other crops on her father's farm, saving the profits towards an education. Last fall she moved to the town of Nacogdoches in order to attend the local High School, having produced 1,044 pounds of lint per acre. B. R. Smith of Johnston, S. C., was second with 1,019 pounds of lint.

The Cotton Producers Cooperative Association of Arkansas is interested in stimulating interest in high yields per acre among vocational students, and prizes are awarded each year for the greatest production on three acres. Last year this State Cotton Contest was won by Pierce Adams, a young man of Bruno, Arkansas, who grew 2,450 pounds of lint on three acres at a cost of 8.7c per pound. In 1925 young Adams won the second prize in this contest. Elstner Beall won first prize in this contest for 1925 and 1924, and this year finished fourth. Both boys in recognition of their accomplishments were members of the Chilean Nitrate of Soda Educational Bureau party. The Tennessee Cotton champion is Mr. Guy Harrell of Brownsville, who produced 4,180 pounds of lint cotton on five acres. The second prize was won by E. M. Shelton of Dyersburg, Tennessee, who raised 3,626 pounds on the five-acre area. The 1926 Cotton champion of Mississipi is Mr. R. L. Matthews of Belzoni, Humphrey Co., Miss., who won first place in the State Contest by producing 13,265 pounds of seed cotton on three acres. The second prize was won by Mr. J. N. Fulgham of Utica, Hinds County with 11,493 pounds of seed cotton, and third prize was won by W. Z. Cotten of Rosedale, Bolivar County, with 10,286 pounds of seed cotton.

One of the most remarkable yields of cotton growing is that of the 1,071 Alabama Farm Club boys who produced 1,071 bales on 1,071 acres. Practically all of them used the Auburn method in fertilizing, which is: 400 lbs. of Acid Phosphate and 50 to 100 pounds of Potash put out at planting time, 200 pounds of Nitrate of Soda, one-fourth at planting time and the other three-fourths applied as a side dressing just as the cotton is chopped.

Rockdale Reporter Enters 55th Year

Rockdale, Tex., Feb. 27.—With this week's edition of the Rockdale Reporter and Messenger, it enters upon its fifty-fifty year of continual publication as "Milam County's Oldest Newspaper."

The Messenger was established by Major W. M. McGregor and James A. Muir in 1873. The Rockdale Reporter was established by Homer D. Wade in 1893 who soon after sold the publication to R. W. H. Kennon merged the Messenger with the Reporter, and in 1911 sold both publications to John Esten Cooke, who for sixteen years has enjoyed his work of boosting Rockdale and Milam County.

With the exception of Enoch Breeding of the Messenger, he has been at the helm for a longer consecutive period than any other of the various editors, within its 54 years of existence.

It is the first birthday anniversary of the Reporter that Cooke was absent from his post of duty. For the past month he has been a patient in a Temple hospital, where he submitted to a mastoid operation a week ago. His son, W. H. Cooke, a student of journalism, is substituting and getting out splendid editions.

Another Producer in Rockdale Field

Rockdale, Tex., Feb. 27.—Another splendid producing well has been added by the Chicago Oil and Land Company's well No. 3, on their 35-acre Gambill. It was drilled in Wednesday at 1,370 feet. Flush production indicates a regular producer of 20 barrels daily.

The Chicago Oil and Land Company (Pamplin & Birdwell) is developing three proven leases in the Rockdale oil field, and has ten producing wells on 128 acres of leases.

Chances are favorable for another producing well to be drilled in by the Smith Oil Company on their Leewestein lease. Last fall this company drilled in a small well on the Leewenstein lands two miles south of production. This was followed by a gas well by the Rockdale Development company on the Shelton lease.

Local oil men predict big production around the Leewestein-Shelton district.

Melon Growers Re-organized at Fairview Meet

C. Saller, president of the Thorndale Commercial Club, and Henry Ross, teacher of Vocational Agriculture and chairman of the committee on Agriculture of the Commercial Club, attended a meeting of the Fairview community last Tuesday night and took part in the effort being made to reorganize the Thorndale Watermelon Growers Association with a view of marketing melons in car lots this year.

About thirty farmers attended the meeting and good interest was shown by all present, resulting in 25 or 30 acres of land being pledged to be planted in melons at this meeting and all others who will co-operate in this worthy undertaking were requested to call on Smith Summerlin at Thorndale and file their names and the number of acres they will plant in melons with him sometime during the present week in order that the organization can be perfected at the next meeting which will be held at Fairview on Tuesday night of next week. An effort will be made at the next meeting to include peanuts and sweet potatoes to the cooperative marketing plans of the association and all inclined to this idea are urged to attend the meeting on Tuesday night of next week.—Thorndale Chompion.

AN AGRICULTURAL EVENING SCHOOL IS BEGUN HERE

Monday evening, February 21, a group of Thorndale farmers came to the school house to start an Agricultural evening school.

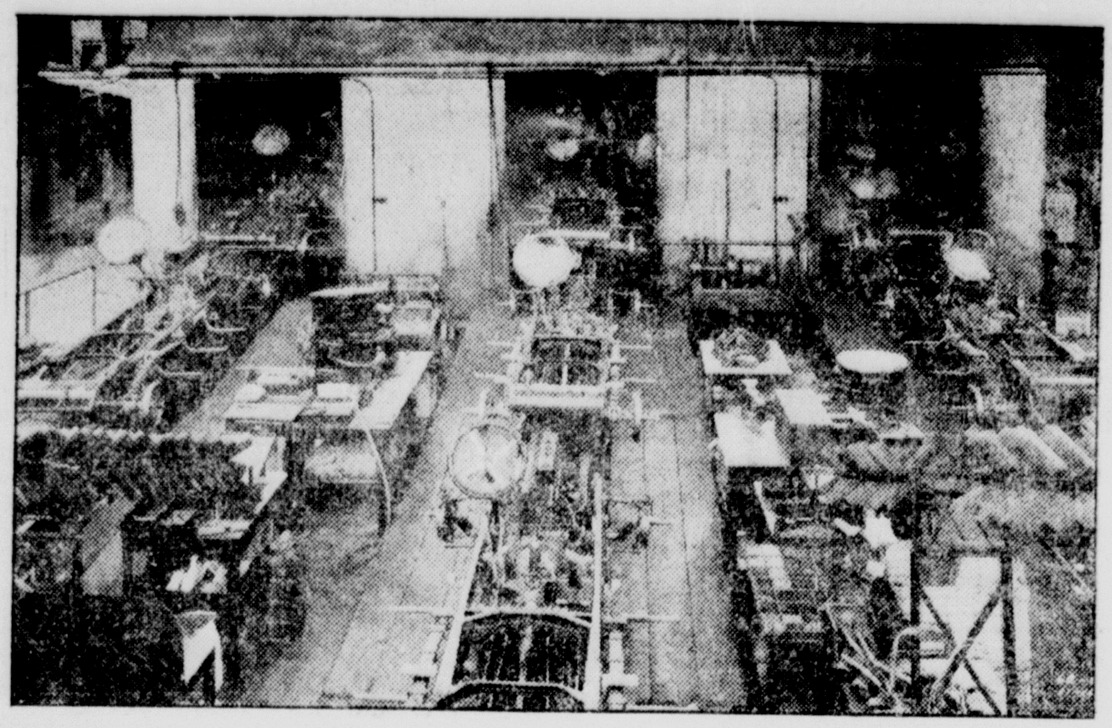
NEW CAMERON BAKERY

POSEY'S MODEL BAKERY

BUICK UNIFIED LINE



THE Buick Motor Company has announced the completion of its new, efficient assembly system, the Unified Line.

It is capable of turning out thirteen hundred complete automobiles a day. The plant engineers who planned and built the system say that their purpose was to obtain the most speed and economy in the assembly operation consistent with the rigid standards of quality maintained in the past.

That this purpose has been accomplished is demonstrated by the fact that between 885 and 900 men, with the aid of the new system, are able to turn out the normal output of eleven hundred cars a day. This places the actual cost of assembling each car at a figure less than the wage of one man for one day, as far as the labor item is concerned.

There is no interruption in the assembly of the cars from the time the bare frame starts at one end of the system until the finished car is driven away at the other end. It consists of three assembly lines located in a building 64 feet wide and running parallel. This economy of space is possible because all materials and parts are brought to the three lines by gravity or power conveyors at exactly the time they are needed for assembly. This eliminates the necessity of keeping racks of stock on hand.

Buick builds chassis of three lengths and two engine sizes. There are eighteen domestic body styles, several export right hand drives, many different paint combinations of bodies and wheels, and practically all parts are in two sizes. A frame for a chassis of 128 inches starts at the riveting bays. Throughout its long journey through thousands of assembly operations, it must in every case receive exactly the right part for this particular chassis. This is accomplished by the Unified Line.

Cady B. Durham, vice president and assistant general manager of Buick, conceived the Unified Line and built it with the assistance of his staff of plant engineers. Its purpose is to build Buicks to the same high standard of quality which has been maintained for twenty-three years, and yet to eliminate the costly items of delay, handling costs, duplication of effort and unnecessary labor expense. The system as it now stands is second to none in the industry.

COURT WITHOUT AUTHORITY TO EXECUTE HASSELL; APPEAL WAS MADE BEFORE WRIT ISSUED

(State Line Tribune)
at Farwell

Mrs. P. A. Watson of Crockett, Texas, sister of George J. Hassell, convicted in the district court of Parmer county for the murder of his step-son, Alton, and sentenced to die in the electric chair at the Huntsville prison on February 25th, has filed a petition in Trinity county with the end in view of securing for Hassell a sanity hearing. Previous to that she personally plead with Governor Moody to commute his sentence to life imprisonment.

It became known here last week that an effort was being made to induce the governor to commute Hassell's sentence, but it was not generally known who was back of the proceedings. Attorney W. H. Russell of Hereford, who was appointed by the court to act for Hassell denied on the telephone, any knowledge of the action, and stated that he had only filed his notice of appeal. Press dispatches early in the week mentioned Mrs. Watson's name and indicated that Governor Moody had refused her request. She went directly to Trinity county to file her petition.

Statutes Provide for Hearing

The Texas statutes provide for a sanity hearing after conviction, and the proceedings as outlined, are very specific. They read that a sanity hearing can be had by any respectable person filing an affidavit that it is believed that the person convicted is insane. It is then the duty of the district court of the county in which the conviction was had to order the person to be brought before the court at its next regular session, and the procedure is the same as in criminal cases. No provisions is made for the case to be tried elsewhere.

Governor's Letter

Below is a letter from Governor Moody to N. L. Speer, warden of the Huntsville prison, which will clear the air to some extent.

February 21, 1927.

Mr. N. L. Speer,
In care of Texas Prison System,
Huntsville, Texas.

Receipt is acknowledged of your letter of February 19, enclosing a copy of a letter from Mr. W. H. Russell and a copy of a certificate furnished you by the clerk of the district court of Parmer county.

I have been advised that the sentence of the trial court directed that Hassell be executed on February 25. Requests have been made for the commutation of this sentence to life imprisonment. The basis of these requests was that Hassell is insane. I have refused to commute his sentence on the grounds that he is insane, because I cannot have any knowledge with reference to that except the representations which are made to me by persons who are interested in his welfare. If of course I do not mean to question their correctness or sincerity, but the law provides a means for determining the question of whether or not a man convicted of crime is insane, and I believe the method should be resorted to in this case. I have advised those who have appealed to me for a commutation of his sentence to resort to the proceedings outlined in the Code of Criminal Procedure, and cause the question of his sanity to be tried as the law provides. It is the policy of our law that no man shall be punished during a period of insanity, and the law provides adequate means to prevent such a thing. I understand that the persons interested in Hassell are going to make some attempt to institute proceedings to have the question of whether or not he is sane or insane tried as the law provides.

Yesterday Mr. A. T. McKinney, district attorney at Huntsville, advised me that Hassell's sister was going to Farwell for the purpose of beginning such proceedings. He asked that I grant a stay of execution in this matter to the end that they might have sufficient time to try the question. Obviously the time between now and February 25 would not be sufficient for such a proceeding to be instituted and finally disposed of, and I told Mr. McKinney that I would issue a proclamation staying the execution for a sufficient length of time to allow a trial of the question.

From your letter and the enclosures however it appears that it will be unnecessary for me to do this. Article 769, Code of Criminal Procedure, provides that when an appeal is taken from a death penalty that the sentence shall not be pronounced, but shall be suspended until the decision of the Criminal Court of Appeals has been received. The copy of the order enclosed with your letter recites that the defendent gave notice of appeal to the Court of Criminal Appeals, and that the court allowed him ninety days in which to prepare and file his bills of exception and statement of facts. Nothing further than this was necessary to give the Court of Criminal Appeals jurisdiction of the case. When this notice was given Article 769 was authority for delaying the sentence until after the Court of Criminal Appeals had acted on the case. In this condition of the record, I do not see how you could have any lawful warrant directing the defendant's execution, because there was no authority for the pronouncement of sentence or for the issuance of a warrant by the clerk.

I am sending a copy of this letter to Mr. W. H. Russell, defense attorney, Hereford, Texas, Mr. Gordon McCuan, district clerk, Farwell, Texas, Mr. A. T. McKinney, district attorney, Huntsville, Texas and Judge Reese Tatum, district judge, Dalhart, Texas.

At the time I talked to Mr. McKinney, I did not know that the notice of appeal had been given. Please advise me by wire whethr or not you hold a warrant. If you do hold such a warrant, it may be necessary for me to issue a proclamation in order that the question of the defendant's sanity may be tried. But if you do not hold such a warrant that trial can be had while his conviction is pending on appeal.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) DAN MOODY,
Governor.

Quarter Bale to Acre Means Loss to Farmers

BY VICTOR H. SCHOFFELMAYER
Agricultural Editor of The News

If the Texas cotton crop of $5,900,000 bales for 1926 had been raised at the rate of one bale per acre instead of one-fourth bale an acre (which is the average for the last six years) there would have been a profit of $5 to $10 a bale for the lint and perhaps $8 to $10 for the seed, or a total of approximately $13 to $20 per bale, in spite of the huge crop of more than 18,000,000 bales grown in the United States.

It is clear that the chief trouble with Texas cotton raisers is that under existing conditions it takes four acres to make one 500-pound bale. This means that three extra acres are farmed with all their overhead and production costs, when the goal should be one bale to each acre, if there is to be a profit.

Careful records assembled by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture for the last few years and by The News through its "More Cotton on Fewer Acres" contest show that the cost of raising one bale per acre is from 9c to 10c a pound. In many instances bale-an-acre yields are produced at a still lower cost, to say nothing of still higher per acre yields which show costs as low as 6c a pound.

Raising one bale to every four acres means that three extra acres are unnecessarily farmed to do what one acre should do. These three extra acres require at least 120 hours of man labor, which at 20c an hour wage is $24. Add to this the cost of extra seed for three acres, rent on the land, cost of picking and other charges, and it is plain why cotton farmers are not making money.

Profit Vs. Loss

The News cotton contest records for 1926 show that it costs about $27 an acre to raise about 150 pounds of lint, which is twenty pounds more than the average yield for Texas during the last six years. On that basis it costs just four times $27 to raise four acres to make one 500-pound bale or a total cost of $108. The income from one bale of lint at 11c is $55 and from the seed about $10, or a total of $65 which means a net loss on the four acres of $43.

On the other hand if the 500-pound bale is raised on one acre the cost is only $50, leaving a profit of $5 for the lint and $10 for the seed or a total of $15. This should prove that the present method requires just three acres too many to produce a bale of cotton profitably.

In other words, cotton growing in Texas has drifted into bad practices, due to the gradual wearing out of the soil. This in turn has practically enslaved the women and children on the farm because of the excessive acreage which annually is planted to cotton in a vain effort to make "both ends meet."

The solution would seem to be "More Cotton on Fewer Acres," which means a larger per acre yield on less land, with consequent lower cost of production.

All through the Southeastern states, in Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina, from which the writer recently returned, the cry is "A Bale an Acre or Don't Raise Cotton." That slogan merely stresses the fact that at present prices it takes a bale an acre to make any money from cotton.

Must Raise Bale an Acre

New lands easily raise a bale an acre. Old soils have been robbed of their fertility and organic matter and it is plain that to increase merely the number of acres will not return the net profits which a smaller acreage intensively farmed will bring.

Of course, there are millions of acres of Texas land now planted to cotton which can not produce one bale an acre, but these are the very acres which sold not to be planted to cotton at all if there is to be a profit. These low yielding acres need building up. They require a rest from cotton but they might be planted to feed crops or be allowed to go back to pasture land.

Cotton raising must become a business if farmers are to make money. As the yields per acre go down the profits go down also. It is clear, then that those three extra acres now being planted to cotton every year have no business being planted to this crop, as they constitute an unnecessary burden.

Many cotton growers and bankers misunderstood The News cotton contest and fail to grasp the underlying idea which is to raise cotton at a profit even when prices are low. Of course, The News campaign of education don't mean that farmers should plant another 18,000,000 acres to cotton and try to raise a bale an acre on each acre. That would be the heighth of folly, and what is more, an utter impossibility. It would require long years to build up the depleted black lands to such a yield and would have to be combined with crop rotation, use of barnyard manure and commercial fertilizer, which would make the task prohibitive for the average farmer. It is a much more simple task to build up one out of every four acres now planted to cotton and to make it yield a bale an acre. That is feasible and what is more, it has been done in the last two years by many farmers entered in The News contest.

Facts Hard to Face

The above facts are hard to face but they can not be gotten away from if any man will take the trouble and figure what it costs him to raise his cotton. The farmers in The News contest keep an accurate record of their cost of operation. They know where they are "at" and many have learned lessons which have started them on the road to prosperity.

An analysis of last year's "More Cotton on Fewer Acres" contest shows that there is an average of about 40 hours of man labor per acre according to the contest records kept by growers. The hours of horse labor are about 50. These records come from all parts of Texas and perhaps are quite representative of the hours worked on each acre. Only the complete records were used and many had to be discarded because they were incomplete in certain labor items.

On 25 West Texas farms entered in the contest the average number of man hours is 27, while the horse hours are 47.

On 33 black land farms of North and Central Texas the contest records show an average of 38 man hours and 49 horse hours.

On 103 East Texas farms the average man hours was 44 and the horse hours 52, all of which points clearly to lower production costs in West Texas to which other sections must adjust themselves somehow.

A table on this page shows the relationship between man hours, horse hours, yields of cotton, cost per pound and net profit or loss per acre which should prove instructive.

The News obtains the facts from the contest entrants and analyzes them to show the advantages and defects in the methods used to raise cotton. The farmer who studies these records should profit as a result, since every one knows that there is something radically wrong with cotton production not only in Texas but throughout the whole South.

The upshot of it all is that much land planted to cotton should not be planted to this crop until it has been built up. Intensive effort on fewer acres means larger per acre yields at a lower production cost and therefore larger profits.

JUNIOR COLLEGE BILL PROVISIONS EXPLAINED

CANNOT GET STATE AID AND TAX LIMITED TO 20c ON $100.

The junior college bill was one of the major measures passed by the house of the Texas legislature during the past week. The senate passed the bill a few days ago.

The measure acted upon by the house was a substitute bill for that receiving favorable action in the senate—the substitute bill being agreed upon by the education committee for the senate bill by Floyd. Numerous amendments to the committee substitute were adopted by the house.

The bill authorizes the creation of a junior college district of any independent school district having taxable values for school purposes of not less than $15,000,000 and having not less than 500 high school pupils, or by any combination of independent or common and independent districts embracing part or all of a county of not less than $30,000,000 valuation and not less than 600 pupils.

Territory may be annexed after the district is formed. A vote of two-thirds of the tax payers is required to form a district. The tax is limited to 20c on the $100 valuation.

Provisions for Students

Provision is made for students of high school age in districts in the junior college area that are without high school facilities by the following section:

The board of school trustees of any junior college district comprising an entire county and levying a tax for the maintenance of a junior college shall transfer funds not to exceed $6 a month to the board of trustees for each independent school district or city for each pupil who may be transferred to such district or city for high school purposes by the county board of school trustees, whenever sufficient funds for such purpose are not provided by the state; provided that the county board of school trustees shall transfer the state per capita to the independent school district or city at the time of making the high school transfer, and providing the transfer shall be certified by the county superintendent of schools by January 1 of each year to the secretary of the board of trustees of the junior college district, and provided that the payment of tuition for each transfer shall be made by the junior college district by March 1 of each year to the board of trustees of the independent school district or city."

The junior college measure is needed to remedy a situation growing out of the growth of the junior college idea, said Representative H. T. Brown of Jacksonville, chairman of the Education committee.

Communities not able to care for their common schools properly, on account of their valuations, are trying to establish junior colleges, Brown said. One of the paramount purposes of the bill is to restrict the creation of colleges where the community can not support them. Brown said that in a few years, if the junior colleges are not restricted, there will be so many in the state that the legislature will be called on to give them state aid and there will be enough votes in the legislature to grant the request.

To Get No State Aid

The bill states that in no circumstances shall the state aid the junior colleges established, Brown explained. He declared it would bankrupt the treasury if the state was called on to support those that will be formed if left unrestricted.

"There is nothing in the law now to keep any town from starting a junior college," Brown said. "In many sections the result would be to starve the common schools."

Another argument advanced by Brown was the effect the bill would have of keeping young boys and girls at home for the first two years of their college training.

"There are boys and girls 18 and 19 years old attending the University of Texas who should be at home," he said. "The counsel they would obtain from their parents is worth more than the literary training they receive away from home."

Amendments offered by Judge W. M. Fly were adopted, providing that each school district shall vote independently as to whether it desired to enter a junior college district and providing that a petition to enter a junior college district must be signed by 25 per cent of the taxpayers.

GOT "BUMPED" BY COTTON AGAIN

SAME OLD STORY OVER AND OVER IN EVERY COTTON STATE.

Atlanta, Ga.—(Special.)—"We invited the present unsatisfactory cotton price situation when we failed to take notice of the danger signals flying on every hand at planting time last spring," declared H. G. Hastings, widely recognized agricultural authority and President of the Georgia Association, a statewide development organization with the avowed purpose of breaking up the slavery to cotton that exists so largely in Georgia and other cotton states.

"It looks as if our cotton farmers enjoy having the very life 'bumped' out of them ever so often the way they come back and invite 'bumping' every period of high priced cotton. It's a mystery the way they keep coming back for more punishment in the face of repeated 'bumps.'"

Our farm folks, our country bankers, supply merchants, etc., must all get it through their heads that the rules of the cotton growing game are changing. One-third to one-half bale per acre is a money loser on any price that is in sight. Low yields per acre always means high cost per pound.

There is one answer, and one answer only, to the cotton-growing problem, and that is less acres in cotton and more cotton per acre. As the yield per acre goes up, the cost of making it per pound automatically comes down. We can't have much control over selling price, but we can keep production costs down.

Less acres in cotton means more acres available for food and grain crops, cows, hogs and chickens. Cost of making cotton is largely a food and grain cost, food for the family and food for the working live stock. Corn, oats, hay and forage for the mules, horses, cows, hogs and chickens; meat, meal, fresh and canned vegetables and fruits for the family table are made at half the cost or less of what is paid for same to merchants or dealers.

In almost every cotton growing community there are one or more farmers "sitting easy" right now. The secret of their easy posture is that they own their cotton instead of owe it for food or grain or borrowed money. They are not pinched. They have corn or other grain in the crib hay or forage a-plenty in stack or barn, meat either in smokehouse or on hoof, milk and butter from the cows and plenty of chickens for regular use, as well as when the preacher comes around. Most of if not all the year round there are fresh vegetables from the garden and home-canned goods from their own shelves instead of the merchant's.

The safe way, the only way to make you "sit easy" in times like this is to "live at home and board at the same place."

Friday and Saturday MARCH 4 AND 5

Have been designated as CLEAN UP DAYS in the City of Cameron and on these two days the city trucks will call for and haul to the dumping grounds all trash, cans and refuse about the place.

This is a custom pursued by the City twice each year and is an accommodation to the people. The City requires the trash and refuse to be placed in containers and set at the edge of the street so the trucks can conveniently get it.

The trucks will not be required to go upon the premises on these days. Please do not ask the drivers to go in your back yard for trash. Place all trash in cans and set out in a convenient place so they can see it.

The City desires to begin early in the clean up. All cans and trash accumulated about the place during the winter months should be raked up and placed in containers ready for the trucks on Friday and Saturday, March 4 and 5.

In case the drivers do not get your trash telephone to 283 for Logan Green, chairman of the street committee who is in charge of the city trucks.

The City asks the co-operation of everybody. Between now and March 4th and 5th have all trash collected and put in containers and let's start the new year with a clean town.

ROCKDALE MAN HELD IN SAN ANTONIO MURDER

3 VIOLENT DEATHS FIGURE IN LIFE OF WOMAN CUT TO DEATH

(San Antonio Express)

Funeral services of Maria Ortiz de Cadena, woman of tragedy, will be held Friday, closing the history of the woman in whose life three violent deaths have figured. Her husband Joaquin Cadena, is in jail without bail charged with the murder and in default of $3,000 bond on the charge of assault to murder Abel Mendez.

A half-brother of the dead woman, Juan Flores, is in jail without bail on the charge of murder of Rafael Hernandez, 16 years old.

It has been less than two years ago that the dead woman's former husband Ng Ben, a Chinese, was shot death by a fellow countryman.

A few months before that she had obtained a divorce from Ng Ben and the Chinese had been found in Milam Spuare suffering from poison and his life had been barely saved.

"Death has followed her all her life," declared a brother at the home, 1401 Lake View Avenue, Wednesday, whre the body of the woman of tragedy lay in a white casket. "Now she has been struck down."

Across the right check and the right side of the pallid neck were two long scarlet lines where either a knife or razor had bitten deep into the flesh. Hidden by the high-necked funeral robe was another wound which had almost severed the head from the body.

Death came to Maria Ortiz de Cadena in an hour of pleasure, just as she left a picture show on West Commerce Street. The husband whom she had not seen since she left him a few days after their marriage in Houston November 20, 1926, is alleged to have slain her, and was remanded to jail by Justice of the Peace Anton Adam after waiving preliminary hearing at noon Thursday.

Cadena Makes Statement

Joaquin Cadena made a statement before Lee Johnson and Louis Cardenas, investigators for District Attorney C. M. Chambers Thursday morning. He told of meeting the girl a few months ago, soon after he had come here in search of work. He went to Houston and obtained employment at the Rice Institute, working in the garden, he said, and one night went to his room and found Maria waiting for him. She remained there a few days and returned to San Antonio. Later she made another visit to Houston and they were married by a justice of the peace. The woman only remained with him a few days, and said she wanted to come to San Antonio on a visit.

A few weeks ago Cadena said he came to San Antonio to see his wife and went to her mother's residence and was told she had gone to a picture show. He was forced to leave San Antonio on account of the death of an uncle in Rockdale and did not succeed in seeing his wife before he left, the man said.

On his return here last Monday he again went to his wife's mother's home and was told Maria had gone to work. He slept in her room and she did not come home that night, he said. The next morning he told his mother-in-law he must return to Rockdale, but he did not leave town.

Cadena said he heard of his wife from a filling station operator who told him she and a man had stopped there and bought gas and oil and had said they were going to Laredo for the celebration.

Wednesday night Cadena said he was standing near a merry-go-round on Buena Vista Street and saw his wife and a man pass in an automobile with another couple on the rear seat. He followed in the direction the car was going and was standing in front of the Zaragossa Theater when he saw his wife and another man come out of the theater. It was then the cutting occurred.

Roy Salinas, 315 South Leona St., and his wife were with the dead woman and witnessed the cutting. They declared Mendez had not been to the picture show with them but was standing on the sidewalk when they came from the theater. Maria asked Mendez to take them home and they were just getting in the car when the affray started.

Salinas and his wife both declared a man who was standing on the sidewalk ran up and stabbed Mendez in the neck two or three times. Mendez fled and the man caught Maria who had started to run. The woman began to scream and the man began to slash her with the knife.

Salinas said the man who had cut the woman then ran down the street and he ran after him, catching up with him at the corner of Santa Rosa Avenue and Commerce Street and seizing him by the throat.

"What did you cut that girl for?" Salians said he demanded.

"She is my wife," the man is said to have replied.

Officers arrived on the scene and the man was turned over to them.

A broken razor was found near the scene of the tragedy and a knife was found in Cadena's pocket when he was searched at police headquarters. He denied knowing anything about the razor.

Abel Mendez was taken to Robert B. Green Memorial Hospital where it was declared he was in a serious condition. Mrs. Cadena died on the operating table.

BURGLARS SECURE $57.50 IN CASH AT HOOPER STORE

Some night prowler forced the bars in the rear window of the Hooper store (Taegel's Inc.,) Saturday night, and robbed the store of $57.50 in cash and a few pairs of ladies silk hose two pairs of men's shoes and posaibly other articles not yet noticed and made their get away without being discovered. The robbery was not discovered until Monday morning when the store was opened for business in the usual way. The officers were notified and some reason prompts the investigators to believe that the guilty parties went from Thorndale toward Houston. Mr. Collier, who is in charge of the business says the thief also took two checks given the store by local people along with the cash. One of the checks was given by C. A. Davis and the other by Henne and Meyer Company. Every precaution will be made to locate these checks and trace back from wherever they are cashed, if they are cashed.—Thorndale Champion.

Blanton Says He Must Fight Some Times To Do Things

"My dear Editor:

You believe in fair play. Because I have prevented Washington citizens from paying most of their civic expenses out of the U. S. Treasurer, and forced them to pay as other cities do, the press here tries to punish me by never permitting any reference to my work, except that which is derogatory, to reach our Texas papers.

Here are the bloom facts: For years our Committee has sought to pass a reasonable Sunday closing law for wide-open Washington. It is not a "blue law", but permits amusements to open between 2 and 7 p. m., is less drastic than any State now has, but it provides one rest day each week for the hundreds of men and women now employed by Washington theatres, movies shows, dance halls, amusement parks, barber shops and other businesses. Millionaire owners of amusements from big cities have blocked us for years.

"With Congress about to adjourn, our Committee wanted to report the bill. We have patiently heard all opposition. Congressman Sol Bloom, an interested millionaire from New York had been heard for hours. He was not a member of the committee, yet attended every session, interrupting the Committee, and leading the opposition.

"On this morning, the opponents had packed the room with 1,000 propaganda spectators, who loudly applauded every attack on the bill, would interrupt, ridicule and jeer Committeemen who insisted that such hearing should be a proper one. Bloom continually interrupted and insulted the Committee. Both chairman McLeod and Read of Chicago were against the bill, yet they repeatedly called Bloom to order. Bloom had some buffalooed. A Government Printing Office employee as an opposition witness testified that when he took the oath of allegiance, ending with "So help me God," he crossed his fingers in mental protest, as he didn't believe in any God, and he was loudly applauded. Another Bloom witness posing as a Baptist preacher claimed that he appeared for 11,000,000 Baptists who were against any Sunday closing. Not believing him, McLeod Read and myself challenged him to prove it, and Bloom again insulted the Committee. I told him that he must not let his New York amusement interests cause him to interrupt any more, and he said my statement was not true, and started toward me. I caught both his wrists and held him back against the table so he couldn't move. A Sunday Amusement Park owner named Sloss ran in to attack me, and was knocked to the floor. Thus our Committee controlled its own meeting and resumed its hearing. That is all that happened. And that night by a vote of four to two we favorably reported the bill. I don't like fights. I never engage in one unless it is forced on me. But when it is necessary to fight to perform one's duty, I don't run. If one didn't fight here once in a while, he wouldn't do very much.

Very sincerely yours,
Thomas L. Blanton."

Black-Draught Makes Her Feel Fine, Says Missouri Lady.

Mrs. Anna M. Hanley, 2536 Brighton Street, Kansas City, Mo., says:

"I have found Black-Draught a most satisfactory medicine for constipation, with which ailment I was troubled for a long time.

"Often I suffered from severe headaches which came, I think, from absorbed poisons. I had a dull, sluggish feeling, and my work was accomplished only by great efforts.

"I had heard about Black-Draught, so I decided to try it, and am thankful to say I was greatly benefited after taking it.

"Black-Draught relieved my constipation and, after I had over-come that condition, I found the other troubles disappeared, too."

Thedford's Black-Draught should relieve you. Try it. 25c. Everywhere.

MRS. ELIZABETH GARNER

On the morning of December 22, 1926 after an illness of seven years, Mrs. Phoebe Elizabeth Garner quietly passed away at the home of her son, Oscar Garner, near Marlow.

Mrs. Garner was born in Clay County, Missouri, and came to Texas when eleven years of age with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Magill. They settled in Milam County and purchased a home near Marlow. None of the family survive her except a foster brother, Mr. L. Wilson of Cameron and nieces and nephews. Mrs. Garner was married November 10th, 1872 to William A. Garner who died August 2, 1893. They resided near Marlow for a while then moved South of Hoyte in the fall of 1877 where they lived many years. Eight children were born to them, six of whom survive: Oscar Garner of Marlow, Marshall Garner of Hoyte, Vernon Garner of Crockett, Mrs. John W. Hairston of Marlow, Mrs. H. G. Bent of San Angelo and Mrs. R. S. Sullenberger of Waco.

After the death of her husband, Mrs. Garner fought the great battle of life alone with her eight children. Trials, troubles and many hardships came to her, but never once did she shirk her duty, and she truly believed that God never puts more on his children than they can bear. A few days before she died, she said, "I have no fear of death. I am ready to go, and I feel like when I leave this world I will be with all the loved ones that have been gone so long. May the Lord help us all to be faithful to the end."

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. L. J. Power, pastor of the First Methodist church, Cameron. Funeral arrangements were in charge of C. N. Green Bros.

The pall bearers were: Henry Griffin, Billie Bickett, Tom Baker, Theo. Burnett, E. I. Mode and N. Y. Hayes.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of expressing to our many friends our sincere appreciation of their kind deeds and expressions of sympathy at the death of our dear wife, mother and grandmother, Mrs. E. E. Harper. Also for the many beautiful floral offerings.

E. E. Harper, children and grandchildren.

TEXAS STATE BOARD HEALTH WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

State-wide Clean-up Campaign

The annual state-wide clean-up campaign sponsored by the state board of health has been announced for the week April 3rd to 9th by Dr. J. C. Anderson, state health officer. "Campaigns of this nature in the past have shown unusually good results, some 250 municipalities co-operating last year with the board in this work," he stated.

"Owing to the prevalence of smallpox and the large number of deaths occurring from preventable diseases, it is highly desirable that individuals and communities take time for a complete health appraisal. The increase in the average life expectation during the last decade has been some 12 or 15 years, and this has been due in a large degree to improved sanitary conditions. Universal application of present scientific knowledge would also undoubtedly increase the average span of life another 12 or 15 years."

Activities To Be Stressed

"Special attention should be given to those conditions affecting health such as sewage, water supplies, garbage, milk sanitation, mosquito control, and food protection. Complete health appraisals of communities are highly desirable to determine hospital and local health department facilities. Attention should also be given to birth registration campaigns during this week, inasmuch as only approximately 75 per cent of babies born within the state are now being registered which precludes Texas from being included in the registration area of the United States.

"Towns or communities desiring to co-operate with the state board of health in the observance of "clean-up" week, will be furnished upon request an outline of proposed activities, health appraisal forms, and available health literature."

Public Health

Comparison of the compiled report of the work done by the public health nursing service of the state board of health during January with the same month of the previous year, shows a material increase in both the number and amount of activities. Cause of the rapid advancement of the work is given by Miss Katherine Hagquist, state advisory nurse, as being the constructive co-operation rendered nurses by county health committees, local physicians and laymen.

"Nurses, during the last month," Miss Hagquist stated, have in addition to maternity and infancy welfare work, given much assistance in the vaccination of children against smallpox in communities where this disease has been reported. Time has also been given to follow-up work in the homes of children having physical defects in an effort to get corrections made, this work having very encouraging results."

Nursing Activities

"Work of the public health nursing service during the last month include 175 social service visits, 221 home demonstrations, 121 group demonstrations, 9 community demonstrations, 291 nursing care visits, 661 general care visits, registration of 225 births, 3,709 individual conferences, 72 public talks, and 18 health campaigns and surveys.

"Community demonstrations consisted of Health Center conferences and the Health Land Exhibit; while group demonstrations included handkerchief drills, care of patients, instructions in child feeding and care of babies, first aid demonstrations, and instruction on care of vaccinations. Health campaigns and surveys were for birth registration, sanitation, vaccination, prenatal care, registration of midwives and Health Clubs."

About 350 Acres Pledged to Plant in Roasting Ears

At a meeting of Thorndale Commercial Club directors the roasting ear problem was discussed and plans crystalized to promote a possible sale of green corn here this year.

About 350 acres of white corn has been turned in to the two banks and Smith Summerlin for entry into a green corn sale if a market should develop. The Commercial Club desires to have every farmer in this trade territory who is going to increase his corn acreage to plant ten acres of white corn and leave his name at one of the banks or with Smith Summerlin. When these lists are completed they will be consolidated. Then if a market for green corn should open up the Commercial Club would be in a position to induce a buyer to come to Thorndale by virtue of the fact that the exact acreage and location of same would be known.

In case there is no market for the green corn the Commercial Club feels that no loss would be sustained as the corn may be matured and sold as such or fed to livestock and marketed as live stock or live stock products.

There is a possibility in putting this roasting ear industry over successfully with a little co-operation all around. Let's all do our part.—Thorndale Champion.
